Homophones

Circle the correct words in Einstein's note to help Honey find her treats.

Dear / Deer Honey

There / Their is still one fresh peace / piece of your favourite cream cake and two juicy chunks of meet / meat somewhere around hear / here. I have hidden it all because you yanked my tail / tale, not once, not twice, but eight / ate times yesterday! Now my friends and I will have some / sum fun watching you try (and fail, of course / coarse) to read / reed and solve this puzzle. You see / sea, you should never mess with a rat: We will beat / beet you at your / you're game every time!

Now, if you dare, don't waste / waist any more time or get your stomach in a not / knot. Follow the scent / sent towards the gap in the stares / stairs that lead to the hole / whole in the wall. There, where the days / daze are dark, but the nights / knights are bright, you will find you're / your next cryptic clue.
